AQUAEL MOONLIGHT LED - nocturnal lighting in your aquarium

New product has entered the AQUAEL's offer- it is a fully submersible lamp designed for nocturnal lighting in aquarium - MOONLIGHT LED.

Night is a natural time of activity for many aquarium animals such as numerous catfish or other fish species inhabiting the bottom zone and feeding after dusk. To observe them better it is worth to install so called nocturnal lighting in aquarium. Based on modern and energy-saving technology MOONLIGHT LED lamp is perfect for that purpose.

MOONLIGHT LED lamp has a form of a small round module equipped with four blue LED diodes of total wattage of just 1,0 W. It can be installed both in and outside of the water. Installation of lighting is facilitated thanks to the double hang-on system consisting of strong suction cup and magnetic hanger. The lighting can be safely immersed in water (both fresh and salt). 5V technology in which the device is produced, ensures total security for both the animals inhabiting the tank and their owner. The strong blue light emitted by MOONLIGHT LED illuminates the tank interior perfectly imitating the natural moonlight. It ensures perfect feeding conditions for nocturnal animals. It has been also experimentally proven that application of such a type of lighting can stimulate reproduction of so called "problematic" fish species that tend to be reluctant to spawn in aquarium. AQUAEL MOONLIGHT LED is also perfect for small marine tanks with corals as actinic lighting. It intensifies the fluorescence effect of corals and makes them look more attractive.

The double hanger makes the lamp easy to install practically everywhere, both to the tank glass as well as the cover or other elements of aquarium equipment. MOONLIGHT LED can also be successfully used for purposes not related with aquaristics, e.g. for lighting small indoor spaces.
